

NOTE TO SELF - Jerry KiaZ

#1

In the persistent pursuit of your happiness don't lose yourself,
What you can dream, you'll surely achieve if you relentlessly believe.

Love never fails,
Beauty is vain, it fades away,
The power of love is simply unbeatable like an egg frozen using alien technology in sub-zero temperature!

#3

I hate it when I've got butterflies trying to rip a hole thru my belly-button,
I love it; if you're the cause.
I hate it when I love to hate you,
I love it when I love to love you,
I'm pushing on a pull door!

#4

Blame it on the alcohol, they blame it all on a bomb, it caused a rock to form a man from a single-cell,
A billion years and a single man made a woman,
I hope you understand all this blabbering media spam.
Blame it on the bomb, so it's okay to go to war, I'll blame it on God and we love to love forevermore.

#5

Pain. Pleasure.

The same sensation in different degrees.

Hot. Cold.

Confusing illusions of love.

Crude conclusions of beating hearts.

Needy suggestions of a deprived mind, are idle ideals of a dreamer's broken heart. It would be easier to know the one if there were a flashing light hovering above your head to prove you're the one. But let broken hearts bleed.

#7

I'm not special. Anti-social. My one talent is words. Just a single absurd advantage indeed.

Will I get a podium to lead and speak as a person like me is supposed to be?

I'm not worthless. Full of potential. This is it. This is life.

#8

I didn't lose her,

I gave her up,

To blow like the wind in dust,

She's still amazing and I'll always think I'm crazy,

Well, only until I meet you...

True love doesn't always make sense, it bends my arm and twists my fate to make that date,

I'm not on schedule but I won't be late!

#9

They called him a King.
He had enough money to last 5 lifetimes,
Then he bought a pig.
The hungry animal ate all he had,
When he had nothing left,
It ate him too.

#10

A clever man's answers are good,
A wise man's answers are clever.

#11

For now, we know in part.
The day we know,
We'll know we don't know,
And that's all I know.

#12

Love is sweet.
Never make promises you can't keep.
Don't hold the steering wheel if you might sleep.
If you can't sleep, count in the black sheep,
Love is like a flame that burns heat.

#13

Don't get mad, breathe if you can.
To conquer the world, first conquer the self.
Impulsive eruption of anger,

Compressed into a harmless venom safe for the infants.

#14

Money matters.

Growth isn't effortless, some people are bound to live and die cocooned in the poverty of their own minds made by a sad, damp image of an American nightmare birthed by an unholy anthem only seen and believed on movie screens.

#15

Ladies, you don't need to wait in a relationship that's out of hand till your man gets mad and slaps you.

#16

Wisdom is anything that you learn with the sole purpose of sharing it with someone else.

To learn is to transfer heat in the form of passion and enthusiasm.

#17

Twist my arm and lose a friend,
Touch my heart, you have a slave,
It's a sad truth to say...

#18

Regardless if you rise or fall,
The people are watching and they'll always talk,
Be the best you can be,
If you want to do it all,
Be and do, nothing at all!

#19

WHAT IS LOVE:

The pastor of a large church said to a boy:

"Where's your Bible?"

The boy said,

"I can't afford one..."

Then the Pastor replied,

"So sell your shoes."

#20

Life is a test that most people fail because they copy others, oblivious to the fact that we all have different questions to answer!

#21

We are the united,

Like nets or chains,

We fall to the floor and lose it all when a single link breaks...

#22

Stain your heart with crimson dripping from a bleeding gum,

Picturesque yet infinitely imperfect tense:

Our love is so strong,

But the time is too wrong,

Let me write you a slow song,

Our souls have come too close to get torn,

With a parting word like;

So long.

23

They say diamonds last forever,
They say glass glitters like gold,
In fact, all a human is, is ash,
Behold, if you look at the past burning behind you,
Your soul may turn to salt,
So the result:
In the heavens, there's neither fault nor flaw,
Just keep your eye on eternal life,
Let love be the goal.

#24

I won't stop telling you that I love you because I search for your inanimate body when the sun shines through the beige curtains, you're my soul's sensation, you give me more elation than I'll ever be capable of expressing, the next thing is, I love you. I think about your round nose and you're piercing eyes every time you run across my mind. They say love is blind but I never fell, I ran into love with both eyes open wide!

#25

The whole world is a hazy blur outside the window of a speeding car cause the ones who hate can't touch this,
The cuts from the silver tongue are getting deeper cause this hate's so loveless, the rules are too lawless, the cracks seem flawless.
Respect and peace to the dead, (it's a RAP)
Honour the King, bless the queens,
The ghetto streets are coloured with lead,

The new slaves have necks chained with bling,
Quote the Bible to a one-man congregation in a shady pastry shop,
Silence in church!
Homage is paid to our God.

#27

I was once dead, but I'm now alive,
This vigour fuels my passion in this amazing rigor-mortis that's brought breath in my lungs but let me live an passionless life,
Covered in Light to make the darkness run and hide in fright,
Sin is going out my life like a lady sneaking out on a Friday night!
Robotic, mechanical and mathematical in thought and action making my soul's software a counterfeit operating system and my actions a prompted command, lubricated for co-ordinated action.

#28

Drunk and flirting while I swallow a live grenade,
Be careful how you live with the people around you cause the same people who blessed The Lord when he came to the city riding a colt, are the same people who wanted Christ crucified,
I asked for another chance to make you laugh,
But I ended up atop a land mine, doing a tap dance,
The same sermon, a slave's ammunition can also inoculate a serpent's venom, like how the dark hides in light when the devil used the word or vowel to break a vow.

#29

Sleeping in church gave me a delicious dream; eternity filled with free ice cream.
Sleeping in class and hoping I pass the problems in math because they declared a mental war and attacked so I'm now attracted to crack.
Is this the plan my teacher hatched?

Sleeping in a taxi, with a neck snapped by holes in the road that bend rims when the depth hits the car that lifts to the aerodynamic shift.

Sleeping with you while wide awake: live and let live, life like a dream.

#30

Tomorrow never comes because today will never leave.

#31

Play me a sad song on a broken banjo,
Sing me a lullaby while your voice chokes on your tears, a river flows across your chest because of me,
Don't lick that stamp with your venomous saliva, you're a predator and I'm the luckiest black survivor at the end of a white Oscar movie, it's frosty today.

Goodbye my lover,
I used to love your eyes,
I used to fantasize about your smile,
I used to use you,
Goodbye my friend,
I still need you!

#32

Faithless but sitting in the church's golden pew as a priest,
With my eyes wide open, I lost my direction,
Blind faith in Christ gave my whole life to the Light in worship; it's indubitably worth it!

With a heart hardened,
The flesh is tied to darkness,
Sin is death, it's not, not harmless.

#33

ABBA:

Strings from Elohim are attached to the heart of a King: God The Father.

#34

Please erase my brain and put faith in its place instead, clean my heart with prayer as God's detergent, who determines what's worthless or perfect? The fact is: you're the expression of God's perfection.

#35

Looking for the one,

Strange heart strings attached to a single key that's supposed to open the heart caged in my ribs.

#36

Hundred years ago, it was impossible to send a letter to China, now the whole globe is at our fingertips.

Good luck to butterfingers!

#37

When you face the crowd again after controversy, there, right there, is your chance to make a second first impression.

#38

I wish I could kiss you all day.

I wish I was right for you.

I love your eyes and smile and I've already told you that.

You're my brown sugar with Vaseline Cocoa butter kisses.

I wish you could be my Mrs.

What am I missing?

I wish I could be a better man and your heart would never ache and break, our love wouldn't cage you in chains,

I wish I could make you happy.

It's sad...

Not a single minute goes by when I wish I never met you

#39

Your touch is a forbidden fruit that ignites my desire, a spark of attraction.

Is it too much to ask for our love to be everlasting?

Why should it end?

How did this even happen?

My heart bounced from my hand and landed in a place that's kinda haphazard,

Love is beautiful but don't forget that it's the greatest hazard known to mankind's type.

#40

A revelation is a glimpse of the invisible God.

#41

There's a spot where I keep on falling. I hit the floor and pushed my face in the sand with the palm of my left hand. I lost site if what life's like for that moment in time cause everything else fades when the darkness blinds light cause of that secret sin that begins my war with me.

Who wins in a gunfight anyway: I or Me?

#43

Love at first site turns to misery in 3 years.

#44

Throw away the notepad,

I now write in the notes app,
I got to act before I speak, then speak according to my actions.

#45

Leave the fly talk to me like I listen to the singing wind on the tip of an airplane wing, make me like a mystery, fade away but endlessly, earnestly, miss me in your misery, relying on this trickery makes me the conquering prince with royalty bequeathed by the greatest King of kings!

#46

I lost my dad when he was 46. It's the most pivotal moment of my life. I remember that misery killing me from inside of me. Regardless, in still searching for a deeper purpose, all this ash can turn to diamonds according to what you're searching and what your worth is.

Whatever you can dream is yours to hold.

Whatever you cherish shall never be lost.

What you see is a seed of belief.

If I can say one thing plus two it's; Trust, Love and Believe.

#47

Needle in one hand. Thread in the other.
Just don't expect it to be easy to get what you want, even though the tools are in your hands.
You have to work at it anyway.

#48

Who can understand the struggle of a Blackman?
Who's there to hold his hand when our own kill kids in the streets with bangs!
I speak about race and they dismiss me like, 'look, there he guess again!'
I'm tired of the poverty pain and depravity,

I'm tired of mothers drenched a pool of tears with a bloody hand,
I'm tired of walking past a Big Mac and cheese in the trash while I've got no shoes on my swollen feet,
I'm tired of our young ladies turning to the streets with prostitution as a final solution.
I'm sick of the blackman's cashless disease,
I'm sick of plagues wiping a whole continent away an hour a day,
Even today, we don't have steaks on our plates (true story),
I hope I can make a change if I make you listen.

#49

I'm sorry society, I thought I could love you but you cheated on me with the economy.
Misuse my body as an instrument, destroy my insecurities like a stock exchange crash.
I don't know the truth that fathered your lies,
I can't even try to find a surprising smile,
I got a marriage certificate, the state said the baby ain't mine.
Please just shut up, you've already labelled me with a worthless price tag!
Destroy a castle in the sand just to build it with diamonds and pearls.
I need change like Obama, remember?
Maybe cash is the only thing that can ever make sense...

#50

Idle odes of a lonely traveller,
Silent moans of a labouring female,
Screams of the voiceless mime.
Tears of an open eye sieving sand from the wind,
The freedom of the unshackled slave trapped in a mind maze,
The beauty of a baby screeching in the soul of man's silent church.
Usher you, us and her to a place called Nowhere.
The snores of the detoxing insomniac.

The violence of a Buddhist monk in a catholic parish built on an ancient monastery.
The sadness of a lonely billionaire peeking through windows and gates, married to fortunes but never caught the bouquet.

It's like Greek spoken in French, written in Shona and heard in Chinese.
It's like an exposed wound fed a spoonful of table salt and gallon of whiskey from Lebanon.

This is what I seek:
The open opportunity in the closed mouth,
I seek the smiles from the crying eyes,
I seek the truth in a world filled with lies multiplied by a pie in the sky that caused a Big Bang,
I seek for you,
I seek for you within me.

#51

You gravitate toward your secret desire,
At the end of the day, when all is said, we all learn that we only get what we earn, nothing less,
Our ideals are all too soon revealed by the life we live.

#52

I can't keep my mind off you,
I can't take the way I vibrate when my soul sees your face,
I love your hair,
I like your sweet scent the best, it's like heaven's essence,
You say my name like you've got an angel's accent,
I love you.

#53

Write tired worries in the sand, do it at the foot of the sea so the water can eat,

Let my words of sorrow feed the sea,

Blow your stress in the wind and let it dance in the breeze.

#54

It's what you learn after you know it all that counts...for all the large amounts!

#55

The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom,

Sober self-control is how it continues in balance.

Learn to love and live for love!

#56

Scripture is for the soul,

Food is for the flesh,

Love is for the heart,

Books are for the minds,

Deeds are for the world,

Thoughts are for you.

#57

A good idea is anything that causes change to the brain.

#58

I can never learn from the scars I never had,

Like Peter Pan, I could never understand the treasure map if I never land.

Stay stable in all ways like the ground on the floor space.

#59

You can starve your spirit if you don't feed your soul.

You can shake and shiver but that doesn't mean you're cold.

#60

I don't know your name,

I just know the sound of your voice,

I've never felt your skin,

I just feel your electric touch in my nerves.

I have always seen your face,

But my eyes haven't met with yours,

I always see your smile,

But I still haven't told you a joke,

I love you,

I don't know how I know, I know

Forgive my past and let's make our paths match and ever-last...

#61

Why do you have to look so beautiful?

It's like a sucker-punch in the spirit of my soul inside the heart between my lungs!

I love....

#62

The old twitch in my hips,
Swing as she sings while the whole planet twists,
I miss your thin lips miss,
I miss your soft kiss:
Wish-list got a thousand dreams that remain unfulfilled if I keep my hands filled with your dancing drills.
Keep me in your heart,
When I die:
Bury me in your soul!

#63

Am I in love if I blush this much?
I don't care!
I could never relate cause I never had many relatives,
I suspect that peace breeds the need for plenty of love.
But who even cares about love?
I don't care for a measurable amount cause at the end of the day a minute drop's enough to call your bluff,
You've been warned:
I found Lady Luck, but it was my unwise mind that had sense enough to stack the deck of cards!!!

#64

Drunk in love,
Get me a google account and we can use it for hanging out,
Look: we're on a cloud,
It puffs up if you pop this up with a single prickling pin of doubt!

#65

She laughs like a roaring waterfall crashing in the sea of doubt and indecision,
Why did they call me a geek or loser like the wise turtle who ended up being the Olympic winner,

Nature was only made to cool the sun in the heat of winter,
A small bubu under my toe, no! That was my sole that made me shake, rattle and roll cause of the tiny little splinter.

#66

Study the galaxy in your eyes like a mathematical equation conjugated by the late greatest like they displayed it in Chinese.

I tried to throw the gigantic titanic in the expanse of the universe first,
I was just curious and wondering if it works...

#67

The best reason is no reason:
I wonder;
If it's easy or hard to sink this thing we called: 'friendship'?

#68

My people perish from a lack of knowledge.
Knowledge can give access to power.
Knowledge is the one string that ALL things depend.
#Godthefather...

#69

Wealth is an intellectual discovery,
Wisdom is a soul's pilgrimage,
Leading to a spiritual discovery.

#70

There are only 2 pains:

Discipline and Regret.

Debt or Value?

Choose wisely.

#71

For everyone I meet; it's either hello or goodbye,

They're either in the way or on the way...

#72

If there's no enemy within, then we are without a single foe.

So, don't look where you fell but search for the spot where you slipped so you can avoid it.

#73

A fortune does not change a man, it simply makes him...

#74

The loudest sound seems to steal the glory...

The roar of a lion makes the feline a king?

#75

A few fumes lost in a soggy cough,

Caught off guard with red hands and fingers glittering gold studs stained with the rain and mud,

The heaven spilt that blood.

The baritone nose blows the trumpet in a sneeze,

Then I dropped an ace from my sleeve.

#76

Thinking like a man of action,
Acting like a man of thought,
Gives the currency the ripples and tides that my life directs to a sea of the endless depth of debt,
But the banks are those blokes who direct the flow of cash like sand on shore,
Currently, the only peace of mind is in this piece of mine,
They say it's a rat race but what if I colour run in order to feed the blind?

#77

Bald head to make the light in my mind shine, anyway, that only happens sometimes when there's a lack of moonlight in the night sky,
Girls fall in love with status and words that's why lil miss sunshine fell for that sly guy...
Men fall in love with looks that's why he slipped up that time he saw the faceless girl with a made up face in his vicarious night life.

#78

Will I find black and white meat if I peel a zebra for some meat to eat?
If I'm the black sheep, do I need 2 count me as 3 if I can't fall asleep?
Just don't play dead in a room full of vultures!

#79

Faith is the fine art of borrowing from the future to earn hope as an incentive of all operations in this time dimension.

#80

A rose must be made with the sun and the rain,
Love begins after it lives through thick and thin,
A nightmare hides inside the beauty of a dream.

#81

X marks the spot!

#82

Silence is so accurate,

Anger is so eloquent,

Pain is fluent,

Anguish so passionate,

Hurt is love.

#83

Roll my eyes to the back my head,

Instead, trying to find me a brain.

In the bitter struggle of life, we chase the pain with tequila instead.

Man can't be sustained by bread and sex,

In every breath, we pay respect to the god of death!

What is life if only the fit survive?

What is war, if what's dead can't die?

I had to lose an eye to find the sight,

I had to prophesy to do it right!

#84

Money makes the whole world twirl,

Your love is the satellite that's caught me in orbit,

If you ever leave me, I'm coming along cause you've got a love I can't forfeit!

#85

Great power comes with great weakness

A wise heart comes with a tongue's sweetness,
To reach meekness, you gotta keep order in your mind like a school prefect:
The Reject.

#86

Words and a raised fist or glass to toast and punch the sky at the same time,
Like a prayer made by a man who's mad at God!

#87

The person who swims and the one who sinks have the same vision:
To breathe and make it to shore.
But the difference is in the art of coordination that could either make you a butterfly or a rock.

#88

We cannot rise above our challenges until we are able to challenge the challenge itself!

#89

Silence is the father of time,
Listening is kin to wisdom,
Reading is the basis of education,
Remembrance is the essence of intellect,
Coherence is the fabric of genius!

#90

Live like a king to just die like a man,
That wasn't the plan when I said I'll make all this cash,
It's a crazy realistic match, that the blacks are supposed to be as low as mats, even when the doors are closed for all of those who've missed their window of opportunity, like a running track,

When the whips were lashed, like cars that crash!
A kiss of death blown past, when their lips were slashed,
Like a breath of air for the lynched and gagged.

#91

The truth is in black and white:
Black ink on white pages.

#92

They said knowledge isn't good, until I read a book and learnt to be a crook and they called it school!

#93

In Africa kids gotta eat,
Americans always feast,
Is obesity a rich man's disease?

#94

To make a change,
You gotta understand,
Phase 2: replace the bad with something that's great,
And then, act in faith!
I hope you can relate!

#95

Begin and master,
That's the mantra!

Seeing faster,

Speech comes after.

Brand the land,
With the mark of a pen!

#96

Break my neck with a slap to face,
Please keep my state of mind in its place, brace your face like you've got teeth that decay,
Think a thought and mould your whole life like clay,
Eat your steak and take a bite of the plate,
But then in this case, it's a human race, but don't let the cash be the gambling stake!

#97

Your voice isn't noise,
It's more like chocolate in my ear.

#98

To be wise is to think without moving your lips!

#99

God bless Africa,
God give peace to the sick,
Heal the bleeding wound,
Puncture the bloated egos,
Steal the bloody diamonds,

Dying of Aids is so chronic and ironic,
It's like the ends to the means...

#100

All lessons can be communicated using language but they can only be understood by experience.
